Mercenaries Aid Tshombe Cause

Congo Army Forces Start Armed Revolt

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — Fighting was reported on the Congo's eastern border Wednesday as the Congolese government claimed foreign mercenaries had landed at the major cities of Kananga, Stanleyville and Bukavu.

President Joseph D. Mobutu declared a state of emergency throughout the country and complained to the U.N. Security Council of aggression by invaders sent from "Western countries." It was widely believed the mercenaries were acting on behalf of ex-Premier Moise Tshombe, who was kidnapped to Algeria last week.

The Belgian consul in Bukavu, on the eastern border north of Tshombe's base or stronghold in Katanga province, reported to Brussels that fighting had broken out in the eastern Congo but gave no details.

Mid-West Seeks Longer Seaway Season Study

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A full study should be undertaken of the possibility of lengthening the St. Lawrence Seaway shipping season, a group of mid-western university professors said Wednesday.

The proposal for the study will be presented by the professors to their parent committee, the Committee on Institutional Cooperation at a meeting in Chicago next week.

The committee is composed of representatives of the Big Ten universities and the University of Chicago. The committee is designed to lend research capacity to area problems.

Ice conditions generally prevent navigation in the seaway from mid-December to mid-April.

Problems of keeping the seaway open on a year-around basis were described by Eric Schenker, professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, as "at best formidable, and at worst insurmountable."

He said a more immediate possibility would be an extension of a few weeks or months. A full cost and benefit study would be required, he said.

B52 Crashes In Sea; 4 Missing

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Four crewmen were reported missing today from an Air Force B52 bomber which plunged into the sea half a mile off Puerto Rico Wednesday. Three other crew members were picked up by U.S. Coast Guard aircraft.

The Air Force said the plane, flying a training mission, took off from Ramey Air Force Base in western Puerto Rico unarmed and without bombs.

Senator Says Income Levy Isn't Legal

LANSING (AP) — The first shot against Michigan's new income tax law was fired Wednesday by Sen. George W. Kuhn, R-Birmingham.

Charging that the Legislature passed the 2.6 per cent personal income tax in a form "that attempts to escape the review of the people," Kuhn asked Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to rule whether the law is constitutional.

Kuhn asserted the law, passed last Friday, illegally circumvents a right of voters to a referendum on bills passed by the Legislature. He said it also violates a section of the Michigan Constitution prohibiting a law from encompassing more than one subject and violates the equal protection guarantee of the Constitution.

Blocks Referendums

Wording of the law is designed to bring it under a constitutional provision excluding certain acts from the power of referendum.

The Constitution says that citizens may not call for referendums on laws appropriating money for state institutions or to meet deficits in state funds.

The income tax law includes this phrase: "This act is expressly declared to be necessary to meet established deficiencies, present and future, in state funds."

Attacks Exemptions

Kuhn said the income tax law violates the constitutional prohibition against laws encompassing more than one subject because it raises revenue, appropriates money to administer the tax and provides for a deficiency in state funds.

The equal protection clause is violated, Kuhn asserted, because the law allows $1,200-per-person exemptions on the tax. He said one-third of Michigan taxpayers will pay the income tax while two-thirds will be exempted.

Detroit Police Strike Truce Is Extended 5 Days

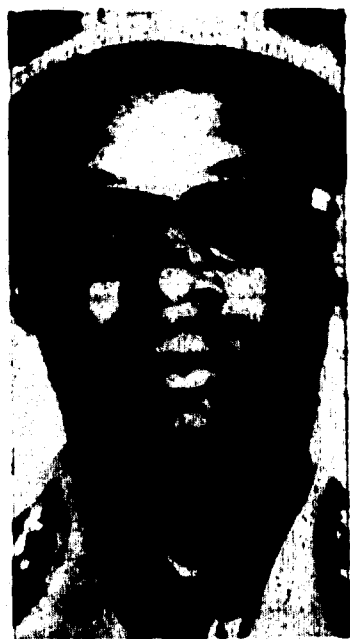

DETROIT (AP) — A 10-day truce which halted last month's Detroit police strike was extended Wednesday to next Monday while negotiations continued to end the dispute.

The truce was due to end Wednesday.

The strike, over wages and other issues, lasted five days and more than a third of the city's 2,700 patrolmen were off the job at one point.

The strikers reported they were ill and went on sick leave to get around Michigan law forbidding strikes by public employees.

Patrolman Carl Parsell, president of the Detroit Police Officers Association Inc., said some progress had been made so far in negotiations with Police Commissioner Ray Girardin, but major issues, including pay, were unsettled.

Romney Sets Primary

MIRROR LAKE, N.H. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney is building political fences for what close associates say will be his first test of strength in a bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Romney said Wednesday he decides to seek the nomination next year, he will begin his campaign in New Hampshire. The state's presidential primary March 12 is the nation's first.

"If I enter, I will enter to win," Romney said.

Former Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall, now leader of a national organization boosting Romney for president, said he expects the governor to announce by the first of the year that he will enter the primary.

Hall said Romney received a "very encouraging reception" from 100 of the state's top Republicans at a private meeting Wednesday and was scheduled to meet with other party leaders today. He said Romney asked for no commitments. The governor is spending four days in New Hampshire to "meet the people of significance."

Romney told newsmen he wouldn't discount "most who have been discussed prominently," including Gov. Ronald Reagan of Calif., as possible opponents in the primary. He said he did not expect that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York would be entered, however.

It is expected that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, popular with New Hampshire Republicans, will enter the race.

GOV. GEORGE ROMNEY of Michigan chats with Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe, right, who greeted him on his arrival at Logan International Airport, Boston. The Michigan Republican was enroute to New Hampshire for a four-day stay at the home of a long-time political backer, J. Willard Marriott, on Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H. Gov. Romney told newsmen he did not want Gov. Volpe as an opponent should either decide to run in the 1968 New Hampshire presidential preference primary in March. (AP Wirephoto)

Bombers Blast Area Of High U.S. Losses

Pill Pushers Warned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission says push sales on nonprescription painkillers.

The commission implied the public is likely to swallow claims that one type of pain reliever works faster or is stronger even though, said the FTC, it appears the various brands are equally effective.

Indicating it may have reached the end of its rope in accepting such advertising, the commission set Sept. 15 as the deadline for filing of written comments on its proposed rule.

The FTC announcement of the proposed new rule specified no products, companies or advertisements. The commission estimated there are about 40 producers and 100 distributors of analgesic drugs.

The FTC said advertisers should make claims of faster, stronger or longer-lasting analgesics a thing of the past unless they can prove a significant difference does exist in the individual brand.

McNamara Flies To Assess Need For More Men

SAIGON (AP) — High-flying American B52 bombers blanketed the Communist infiltration route through the jungles of A Shau valley with about 500 tons of bombs in the past 24 hours, the U.S. Command said today.

The giant Stratofortresses made a record number of eight raids during the period, six of them Wednesday night and this morning against A Shau, due west of the big U.S. base at Da Nang.

The 20-mile-long valley enters South Vietnam from Laos about 30 miles below the demilitarized zone and has long been a vital infiltration route. It funnels supplies to most of the major Communist units operating in the northernmost area of South Vietnam, the sector where U.S. forces have recently been under heaviest attack.

The heavy strikes on the jungled valley were ordered after tactical bombers hitting the area in the past few days caused several landslides in areas where heavy rains had loosened embankments. The landslides caused Red supply convoys to bunch up at narrow points in the valley.

Start New Sweep

While the B52s raided west of Da Nang, the U.S. Marines launched a new ground sweep southwest of the big American base and U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara left Vietnam on his ninth visit to Vietnam.

Although assessment of the U.S. Command's requests for additional troops was believed to be the chief purpose of McNamara's trip, he also was expected to look into the increased danger from North Vietnamese guns and troops near the demilitarized zone, the lagging pacification program, the ineffectiveness of the South Vietnamese army and misuse of the $700 million a year U.S. aid program.

Sporadic ground action was reported Wednesday, but the U.S. Command said 124 Communist soldiers were killed.

Marines and North Vietnamese gunners duelled all today, with heavy artillery fire across the demilitarized zone. Two Leathernecks were killed and three wounded when North Vietnamese troops ambushed a Marine squad on patrol. Seven other Marines were wounded by artillery barrages.

Lt. Gen. Robert E. Cushman Jr., Marine commander in Vietnam, said the Marines have had 95 men killed and 211 wounded in the demilitarized zone area since fighting broke out Sunday night of Con Thien.

95 Marines Die

According to day-to-day announcements since Sunday, the Marine casualties totaled 196 killed, 321 wounded and six missing.

Air Force and Marine pilots also made a major effort against the Communist artillery positions which have been causing heavy casualties to the Marines below the demilitarized zone.

The weekly casualty reported issued by U.S. Command reported a decline in American deaths but the reporting period, which ended last Saturday, did not include the hard fighting since then along the demilitarized zone.

Study Needs

McNamara told newsmen in Washington Wednesday night he would study how many more U.S. fighting men might be needed in Vietnam and check on progress of the pacification effort.

"The military operations continue to show very substantial progress," he replied to a question implying the war has degenerated into a stalemate. But he said there is no equivalent progress in the pacification program.

Some 400,000 U.S. troops now are in Vietnam, and sources in Saigon say Gen. William Westmoreland, the U.S. commander, wants up to 200,000 more.

Apollo Wreckage Leaves The Cape To Curb Profits

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The wreckage of Apollo 1, built with visions of rocketing three astronauts to the moon, was packed in cardboard boxes and plastic bags today for trip by slow barge to Virginia.

The remains are being placed in a silver container the size of two house trailers which will protect the spacecraft components for 10 years should officials decide at a later date to reinvestigate the Apollo 1 fire.

The more than 1,000 packaged pieces of the ill-fated space vehicle leave Cape Kennedy next Wednesday aboard a flatbed trailer. They will then be hauled to an awaiting barge.

And six to eight days later Apollo 1 arrives at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Langley Research Center at Hampton, Va.

For the next decade, it will remain under the custody of Dr. Floyd L. Thompson, director of Langley and head of the review board which investigated the Apollo 1 fire that killed Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee last Jan. 27.

Apollo 1's container—40 feet long, 24 feet wide and 19 feet tall—will have a pure nitrogen atmosphere to prevent its components from corroding, NASAS spokesmen said. The smaller pieces have been wrapped in nitrogen-filled plastic bags.

The container is made of steel, coated with aluminum. Three tiers of shelves for the boxes and bags line both sides and one end.

After arriving at Langley, the craft will be placed in a fenced-in area at the center's west end where NASA said it is to remain for 10 years.

No decision has been made as to what happens to Apollo 1 after that.

AT&T Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has ordered giant American Telephone & Telegraph Co. to curb profits on part of its operations and to slash its interstate rates $120 million a year.

The Federal Communications Commission ordered AT&T Wednesday to operate its interstate and foreign operations, which account for about 25 per cent of the company's overall revenues—within a profit range of 7 to 7.5 per cent.

The commission in a unanimous 107-page order also directed the company to submit by Sept. 1 a plan for reducing interstate rates by $120 million a year. The plan is to become effective 30 days later.

AT&T called the FCC order "most disappointing. If allowed to stand for the long pull, this restriction on our earning prospects would inevitably slow down our effort to provide constantly more and better communications service to the public."

AT&T sits atop the corporate structure that includes the Bell System, operator of most of the nation's telephone service.

The FCC recalled that before 1964 it permitted AT&T to maintain interstate earnings at the 7.5 per cent level. In the spring of 1965 when profits inched past 8 per cent, the commission urged AT&T to cut its rates.

This resulted in lowered rates for long distance telephone calls in the evening.

But despite these rate reductions put into effect in late 1965, Bell System profits continued to rise. Last year, according to FCC figures, AT&T interstate earnings were 8.56 per cent.

In specifying that the Bell System by Sept. 1 must submit a plan to reduce rates by $120 million—about 3 per cent of its interstate earnings—the FCC did not say how the reduction is to be accomplished.

Car Death Toll Over 4th, 732

By The Associated Press

Late reports Wednesday of Independence Day weekend fatalities boosted the holiday traffic toll to 732, within range of the National Safety Council's estimate of 700 to 800.

The statistics broke a record no one wanted to break. The previous high mark for a Fourth of July weekend was 576 during last year's three-day holiday.

A nonholiday tally made by The Associated Press for comparative purposes showed 530 fatalities in a four-day period.

The record for any holiday — 749 — was recorded by The Associated Press during last year's four-day Thanksgiving period.

The Safety Council said the large number of fatalities reflects an increase in the number of drivers and motor vehicles and the millions of miles motorists traveled.

De Hooch Art Given To College

SAULT STE. MARIE — A 300-year-old oil painting by an early Dutch master, valued in excess of $20,000, has been presented to Lake Superior State College by a former Sault resident.

The painting, "Stopping at the Inn" by Pieter de Hooch, was given to the college by Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Moloney, of Cleveland. He is a son of the late Dr. Frank J. Moloney of the Sault.

Dr. William R. Valentiner, a noted authority on Dutch painting, and a former president of the Detroit Museum of Art, who validated the painting, said it was executed by the famous master Pieter de Hooch, probably about 1655 in Delft, Holland.

Watercraft Rites Slated July 23

MENOMINEE — The annual Blessing of the Watercraft ceremonies, inaugurated at Fayette Harbor in 1949, will be held Sunday, July 23, at the Great Lakes Memorial Marina for the third straight summer.

The fleet blessing program will follow the M & M Yacht Club 100 mile sailboat race and precede the Bishop Noa races. In the past two years, the colorful rite has drawn over 12,000 boaters and visitors to Menominee.

The Blessing of the Fleet ceremony recalls the episode of the Savior calming the waves on the stormy night of His apostles' journey across Lake Gennesareth, and sailors even from the earliest Christian days calling for God's guidance as they set out upon their voyages.

Site Changed

It was begun by the Rev. James J. Schaefer, present pastor of the Church of the Epiphany here, then serving the Fayette Church, and came about at the request of fishermen operating out of Fayette harbor, who, like the hardy Norsemen in their Viking ships as well as the mariners of ancient Greece and Rome, called upon a higher power to protect them on their voyages.

The event was continued annually in Fayette Harbor for 16 years, and in 1965, after the Garden Peninsula area at Fayette became a state park, the Menominee Marina and Park were selected as the most suitable site to continue the colorful rite. The selection was made by the most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of the Marquette Catholic Diocese, under whose auspices the ceremony was held. At that time the name was changed to blessing of watercraft, to welcome both commercial and pleasure boats to the event.

Trio Sentenced In Murder Plot

PONTIAC (AP) — A Lavinia couple and their son have been sentenced in Oakland County Circuit Court in connection with a murder-for-hire plot.

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Sorna and their son, Jules, 25, pleaded guilty June 15 to a charge of attempted conspiracy to commit murder.

A Detroit auto dealer said the Sornas offered him $700 to kill Mrs. Virginia Gogates of Farmington. Young Sorna had been charged with the November robbery of Mrs. Gogates' party store.

Circuit Judge Farrell Roberts sentenced Mr. and Mrs. Sorna to two-year probation and gave young Sorna a 2½ year prison sentence.

Oliver Sells His Greenhouse

Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver, 113 S. 5th St., have sold their Hilltop Greenhouse to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Swanson, former Escanabans who came from Chicago to take over the business on Danforth Hill next to the Drive-In Theater this week.

Swanson, who lived on the Swanson farm on Old State

Road, now the Goodrider Farm, was a carpenter in Chicago for years before his decision to return to the Escanaba area. The Swansons are now in residence at the home at the greenhouse where the Olivers lived for 21 years.

Oliver, a native of Ford River, was a woodsman for 27 years and a painter for 11 years before entering the greenhouse, nursery and landscape design business. He plans to continue a sales service in sprayers and pumps in semi-retirement.

He started his greenhouse and nursery business with $25 that he borrowed on a three acre tract on County Road C18 on Danforth Hill in 1946 and built it up "from scratch." At one time he owned the former Gasman 10-acre nursery at 14th Ave. S. and 21st St.

Farm Tour To Visit Mackinac

The eighth annual U.P. Farm Management Tour will be held in Mackinac County on July 22, sponsored by the Michigan State University Extension Service and Mackinac County farmers.

The first stop in the morning will be at a beef farm operated by Ronald Clark. The second stop will show a sugar bush operation with oil-fired evaporator. The noon luncheon will be served at the Engadine Town Hall. Following the luncheon a panel discussion will be conducted by a group of young farmers with different interests in farming.

Two stops will be made in the afternoon close to Engadine, one showing a commercial poultry farmer with some 6,000 laying hens in cages, and the other a dairy enterprise. How this dairy farmer improved his production over a short period of time to permit him to stay in the business will be reported.

Bass Headline Fishing Show

In the Delta County area bass headline the fishing picture with best catches being made on the Ford and Bark rivers and at the head of Big Bay de Noc. Nightcrawlers and the Rappala lure are the most consistent producers.

Fish in the Ford and Bark rivers are running small in size and fishermen are reminded that the size limit is 10 inches. Early morning appears to be the best time to fish. Some northern pike are also being taken in both Bays de Noc. The No. 3 dam impoundment on the Escanaba River is good for panfish.

Trout fishing is not the best due to frequent rains and higher than normal water levels. The two branches of the Whitefish and Dexter and Scott creeks in Alger County are suggested by Conservation Department experts.

Some lake trout and Coho continue to be taken near Miner's Beach in Lake Superior. The Chain of Lakes area in southern Alger County is fair for panfish, bass and pike.

Tax Won't Bite Hard: Varnum

Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) voted for the state's new income tax, he told Escanaba Rotarians at their luncheon meeting in the House of Ludington Wednesday and he'd "do it again."

The tax won't bite citizens of his 107th District hard, said Varnum, and even where some have to pay substantial sums they will have the benefits of a more equitable state tax system, and ample state governmental services instead of an austerity program, he said.

But tax reform (an income tax) does mean more taxes, said Varnum. The state income tax will levy 2.6 per cent on personal incomes, 5.6 per cent on corporate incomes and 7 per cent on financial institutions. A 3 cent addition per pack on the 7 cent cigarette tax is also planned.

Property Tax Relief
Because there's an income tax there will be some relief on property taxes, on a sliding scale. If your property taxes aren't over $100 you'll get a credit of 20 per cent. Over $100 but not over $150, the credit is 20 plus 15 per cent of the excess over $100; over $150 but not over $200 the credit is 27.50 plus 10 per cent of excess over $150; over $200 but not over $10,000, the credit is 32.50 plus 5 per cent of the excess over $200, over $10,000 four per cent of the property taxes.

Most people will benefit about $45 worth, Varnum estimated.

With the $1,200 per person exemption from the tax a family head with wife and three children can make $6,000 before he pays anything. The exemption proposals started at $600. The jump from $1,000 to $1,200 per person cost the state $42 million a year in lost revenue. The estimated take of the tax is now $239 million.

Double Exemption At 65
Senior citizens will get a double benefit. After 65 a husband and wife can claim $4,800 credit on their personal exemption.

There's a kickback to local governments from the income tax it will be over $2 per capita and will amount to about $38,000 for the City of Escanaba. Counties will benefit too.

How, asked Varnum, can Michigan have had a state surplus of $167 million two years ago and now need more taxes? By spending $130 million over its income, plus the built-in increases, he said.

"One of the largest bites will be Medicaid," he said. "It's costing $18 million extra this year and when it's fully implemented in Michigan it will cost $500 million a year, half paid by the federal government and half by the state."

Bridge Toll
"The governor's austerity program (in lieu of new taxes) would have cut $185 million off state spending. Our estimated revenues from present sources was $933 million, and our surplus $13 million. By June, 1968 Michigan would have been $200 million in debt, with a collapse of government services."

"It would have affected education, policing, permitted no new building, cut higher education drastically and caused utter financial chaos in Michigan. If you want state services it takes more money."

District Funds
Varnum said he had sponsored legislation to add a quarter cent to the gasoline tax to reduce the debt on the Mackinac Bridge and reduce the toll (from $3.75 on cars) to 50 cents on all vehicles. "It cost $100 million," he said "and has been in service 10 years and owes $98.6 million on principal. It has only paid $1.5 million in 10 years."

State appropriations for the 107th District named by Varnum included:

Plus a Legislative declaration of intent to support state community colleges, which has passed the Senate and which was expected to pass the House today.

Highway Needs
$15,000 for Thompson Fish Hatchery, plus $50,000 earlier.

Of the need for an adequate highway between Gladstone and Rapid River Varnum said he had been in conference with Highway Department officials and should "have some news shortly." Four lane construction on the segment has been postponed by the department.

Varnum said he counted about $2 million in state appropriations for the 107th District for what its taxpayers are going to pay in the new income tax and other state levies, while getting rid of the business activities tax and an adjustment of the intangibles tax.

Bombers Will Drop Flares Over Superior

K I SAWYER AF BASE—Residents of the Upper Peninsula, Northeastern Minnesota, Northeastern Wisconsin and parts of Ontario will be witnessing year-around aerial fireworks displays.

Beginning on July 1, the skies over western Lake Superior will be periodically lighted by flares dropped from high flying aircraft. The flares may be visible up to 200 miles from the drop area.

The flare dropping will be a continuous training item for Strategic Air Command (SAC) B-52 "Stratofortresses". Each of the large bombers from nearby SAC Bomb Wings will be required to drop flares over the lake at least once every six months. The flares will burn out long before reaching the water and there will be absolutely no danger to shipping or boating in the area.

The drop zone area, 20 miles wide and 45 miles long, is 30 miles west of the Keweenaw Peninsula. The flares will appear as a bright white light gradually diminishing in intensity and dropping toward earth. Flares will be dropped both at night and during daylight hours.

Judge Dismisses Murder Charge

MARQUETTE — Judge Bernard H. Davidson has dropped a 13-year-old murder charge against Alfred A. Boucher of Marquette.

Davidson acted on a petition by Prosecutor Edward A. Quinell, who said prosecution of the case now would be a handicap to Boucher and his family and "justice wouldn't be served."

Boucher was charged in the slaying of Jack Dalton, owner and operator of the former Brookton ballroom west of Marquette on July 9, 1954. He was committed to Ionia State Hospital Oct. 13, 1954, after being declared insane by two physicians and unable to stand trial.

Declared sane in June by hospital officials, Boucher was returned to Marquette and held in jail until Davidson's ruling.

Our Tourist Business

An Upper Peninsula businessman who gets quite a bit of his trade from tourists says "If I'm out of business for seven days, I'm dead."

He was explaining his dependence upon highway business and his fear that if the highway bearing tourists past the front door of his shop were moved, that his business would be a dead duck.

So naturally he's opposed to highway improvement that would mean relocation of the highway. And he's got lots of company.

Given the problem of these tourist business operators, who would act differently? Their livelihood depends upon the success of their business and even a rather short period of highway detour in the tourist season can hurt them seriously. If a highway is relocated and they're marooned, they regard it as a death knell for their business.

These businessmen are important to their communities and to the Upper Peninsula. They're residents and taxpayers and employers and they're engaged in a strategic business which is important to the Upper Peninsula and which can be much more important in the future.

So the problem of these businesses which live off highway traffic is a general concern in this period in which the U. P. faces prospect of major highway change.

There should be a community concern about relationship to the superhighway system of the future. It would help solve the problem of the man with the motel or restaurant on the abandoned highway, but it would do much more than that. It would relate the whole community to the new highway in a helpful way and it is almost impossible to draw a line through any community and say: "These businesses are tourist businesses and those businesses aren't tourist businesses." Tourist money circulates widely and quickly and creates general benefits and we should all be in the business of increasing its flow.

Relocation of some major highways in the Upper Peninsula is going to be necessary if we are to have the kind of highways we need to attract big volume traffic here.

If tourism is to grow here in a big way it should not be opposing highway improvement, nor suggesting that engineering plans be thrown out the window and that all highway development be on present routes. Many of them were not well planned in the first place.

Highway planning for the new Upper Great Lakes Economic Development Region opens up new vistas of opportunity for the Upper Peninsula. We should be planning for the survival and growth of our tourist businesses in the new era of development.

Tourist association meetings reveal the concern of the tourist business operators about highway change. Area development and promotion by promotion is the way to cope with it. It can make our recreation facilities much more appealing and enable them to attract larger numbers of customers into their establishments.

Any other course is self-defeating. We need to survive, but it is easier to do it by changing with the times than trying to cling to old forms that have let the U. P. slip in the contest for tourists.

Rocky Phenomenon

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The early-summer news in the Republican party has to be the new flurry of attention that has suddenly been riveted upon New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, whose 1964 presidential bid was crushed.

As a matter of fact, to the extent that the Rockefeller phenomenon is real—and obviously there are some government and other key party people who consider the New Yorker both highly qualified and capable of being nominated—it seems to suggest a considerable downgrading of Percy's 1968 prospects.

Several key GOP governors, remembering the deep resentment Rockefeller generated among party conservatives after his 1964 bid, regard him still as seriously divisive and hence an unwise choice.

The governor himself is freshly demonstrating this week his heavy commitment to the candidacy of Gov. George Romney of Michigan. He and his most trusted aides declare persuasively, in private and in public, that they are not moving in any way to advance his own candidacy for 1968.

His assertion that he might at some point offer himself rather than Sen. Jacob Javits as New York's favorite son next year is interpreted by Rocky's aides as a potential "technical maneuver" intended to stiffen his control of the state's national convention delegation against possible inroads by Richard Nixon.

Most political figures tapped by this reporter view the "Rockefeller phenomenon" of mid-1967 as partly a construction of the press and partly a reflection of the vacuum resulting from an insufficiently spirited Romney performance.

Tough Romney spadework is going forward in many states, Minnesota, where there are now important stirrings, is a fresh example. Yet it is a fact of life, increasingly accepted in party professional circles, that neither Romney nor his presidential organization has lit the big bonfire.

One Republican figure says he is astonished to hear some moderates, in meetings called to consider ways of helping Romney, voicing quick doubts of his success and wondering where to turn for a second choice.

In the absence of the strong

Romney current, many moderates have long been turning over other prospects in their minds. For several months, Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois was the almost automatic alternative mentioned. But today his name is heard less often.

As a matter of fact, to the extent that the Rockefeller phenomenon is real—and obviously there are some government and other key party people who consider the New Yorker both highly qualified and capable of being nominated—it seems to suggest a considerable downgrading of Percy's 1968 prospects.

Yet the net consequence of this development is major confusion among moderates as to the most desirable "fall-back man."

For, if some are in fact looking to Rockefeller, as many or more stand firmly on the argument that he could never be a compromise candidate in a badly torn convention because too few conservatives would take him.

Here and there, a respected conservative arises to contend that Rockefeller might be salable to the convention if delegates wanted to win badly enough, and if the shakeout of 1968 primaries and other campaign events made the governor appear the likeliest winner. But this view is not widely held.

Moderate forces are hardly cheered by their present uncertainty, especially in light of mounting evidence that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California is building strong support among Republican conservatives and could be a very lively fall-back prospect for them if Nixon should topple in key primaries.

Realistic moderates still rate Romney their best hope. He cannot really be buried before the primaries. If he wins a fair share of those, he will be winning and moderates' bewilderment will end. If he does not, they may be hard-pressed to coalesce quickly enough on a winning substitute.

Most Lawbreakers Only 15 Years Old

PEORIA, Ill. — (NEA) — The popular conception of the common criminal is grossly inaccurate. Unhappy? Seamy-faced? Sulky and belligerent? Chuck most of the adjectives. The only one that fits is "belligerent."

The average lawbreaker today doesn't shave at all. His face is smooth, not seamy and he hasn't had time to grow much bulk. He is, after all, only 15 years old.

He is a kid named Gary B. who sits nervously on an oak bench in a Peoria recreation center. He is dressed in stove-pipe trousers and a T-shirt. His hair hangs limply over his ears. He stares at his feet. His eyes are red and his hands dirty.

He is a burglar. He has been arrested twice. He doesn't care. "Why do you do it?" "A shrug. "Where are your parents?" "A laugh. "Do you know you're headed for serious trouble?" "A yawn.

Gary B. is a symbol of this nation's juvenile delinquent miseries. Last year kids like him accounted for nearly 25 per cent of all law enforcement arrests. Peoria Police alone made 5,296 such arrests (under 17 years old) ... some for theft, arson and you name it. Thirty-four were detained for narcotic misdeeds, 213 for burglary, three for murder.

Says juvenile detective Frank Fosco: "Kids under 17 commit every well-known crime in this town and some others. Like grue sniffing, that aren't well-known. It's tragic. I'd say that over 70 per cent of all Peoria crimes involve juveniles."

That guess, while shocking, is not rare. Peoria kids are neither worse nor better than those in other cities. According to a congressional report by Chicago Congressman Roman C. Pucinski, juvenile crime in the nation has increased to a level where it now accounts for an annual public loss of $4 billion.

Pucinski's facts are stupefying. Among them:

• Considering all ages from the cradle to the grave, the most frequently arrested lawbreakers in the United States today are 15-year-old boys.

• Eighty-eight per cent of all car thefts in the country are committed by persons under the age of 25. Thirty-five per cent of all car thefts are by persons under 18.

• Youngsters between 11 and 16 make up only 13 per cent of the U. S. population but commit over half of all law-breaking property offenses.

And, still though the statistics are the probability is they will get stiffer. Over a quarter of the U. S. population is under 10 years old and police are worried about tomorrow.

"I can't speak for other cities," says a Peoria policeman, "but I look for juvenile crime to get worse and worse in this area. Why? Because there's almost nothing the police can do about it. Society won't let us treat the kids as crooks."

The man's complaint is in JUVENILE DELINQUENCY is Peoria's — and the nation's — No. 1 crime problem. Lt. H. Chase Gillespie of the Peoria Police juvenile division interviews a youngster.

obvious reference to the strict legal limitations imposed in juvenile crime work. Police say such limitations are asinine. They say the laws make a 17-year-old robber a "dirty" burglar, a 16-year-old robber a "misguided boy."

"Until recent years," says detective Fosco, "we weren't even allowed to fingerprint or photograph a juvenile suspect. And things aren't much better now. We're told it's all for the good of the accused. Well, what about the good of the victims?"

Local police are especially disgruntled over the functioning of the juvenile courts. "We arrest somebody and for what? The judges just turn the kids loose." Thus of 5,296 juvenile arrests here last year, police bothered sending only 243 to trial.

And even when courts convict, they do not placate police bitterness. Under Illinois law, juveniles are not charged with specific crimes, only delinquency in general. Even suspected murderers are but sent away to state correctional schools and the average stay in one of the institutions is four or five months.

Therefore, the police problem is apparent. Regardless of their diligence they can only clear delinquents off the streets for a few months at best ... and then only if they are fortunate, get through the red tape and get a conviction.

Police Trainee

NEW YORK (AP) — Police Capt. John J. Kenny Sr., and his son John Jr., a police trainee, were both off duty recently when they set out chasing two burglary suspects who ran in opposite directions. The trainee son caught his man. The captain's man got away. The elder Kenny turned from his chase when he saw his son struggling with the man he caught.

Justice doesn't always prevail at the bridge table. If you think it does, see what happens to East and West today.

South might well have opened with one heart instead of one spade. After North responded one spade, South might still have tried a two heart call but for some obscure reason he bid two clubs. When North jumped to three no-trump most people would have breathed a sigh of relief and passed, but not South. He wanted to bid hearts and decided to try a four heart bid.

North didn't exactly know what was going on but he did have very good club support, so North leaped to six clubs. South couldn't stand for this and bid a hopeful six diamonds. North puzzled for awhile; finally decided that diamonds could not be their cup of tea and finally bid six hearts. At this point, South had finally run out of ideas, so he passed.

West opened a trump. Not that it mattered. North and South had stumbled into an unbeatable contract.

South won in dummy and led the queen of diamonds. West took his ace and led a second trump. South won in his own hand, ruffed a low diamond with dummy's last trump, came to his hand with a club, drew trumps, played out his diamonds and eventually took the spade finesse to make his contract.

"Beautiful, just beautiful!" said North. "I'll bet that you could fall in the river and come up with a fish in your mouth."

"Blank, blankety blank," said East and West.

Shoplifting Is Crime Plus An Immorality

Dear Ann Landers: Sixteen years ago I began to date a very attractive man who was six years my junior. I told him I was 21, although I was 27 at the time. Never did I dream anything serious would come of our relationship.

That man is now my husband and we have had 15 wonderful years together. Last night he told me he must go to Europe on business and he wants me to go with him. This means I must produce my birth certificate in order to get a passport.

My husband is sure to see my passport at some point during the trip and then he would discover I lied to him about my age.

Don't advise me to confess. He has a thing about women who are older than their husbands. I've cringed many times when he has made cutting remarks about such couples in our social group.

Please tell me how to handle this and keep my secret. Undoubtedly other women have written to you with this problem. What did you tell them?

—OLDER THAN SPRINGTIME
Dear Springtime: I told them the same thing I'm going to tell you. Fess up and take your lumps. If your marriage is wonderful as you say, the number on the passport won't mean a thing. Now you know what is meant by that "tangled web we weave when first we practice to deceive."

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in your letter from the teen-age girl who admitted she had done some shoplifting. Your advice to her was good, but I don't think you said enough. Please print the enclosed, which I read in the April, 1967, issue of Reader's Digest.

Professional security experts offer this advice to parents in the fight against youthful shoplifting:

1. Talk to your children. Explain that shoplifting is a crime, and that a criminal record is a lifelong shadow.

2. Emphasize that going along with the crowd for fear of being "chicken" is the coward's way out.

3. When your children go on group shopping expeditions, know how much money your child has, where the group is going, what they expect to buy.

4. If your child comes home with more merchandise than he or she had money to buy, of the ring.

Recall: the grass may be greener on the other side of the fence, but it takes a lot more work to keep it that way.

Today it's the groom who brings "something borrowed" to the marriage ceremony—that's how he gets the price of the ring.

Big Field In Race For Vietnam Presidency

SAIGON (AP) — Seventeen candidates are running for president of South Vietnam, but few observers expect all will still be in the race on election day, Sept. 3.

Only a few are to be serious contenders.

Last week Premier Nguyen Cao Ky accepted the No. 2 spot on a ticket headed by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu. Some Vietnamese who consider themselves political experts are betting that Ky will be out of the race entirely before long.

With most of the armed forces' 600,000 votes behind them—about 12 per cent of South Vietnam's 5.2 million registered voters—the Thieu-Ky ticket at this time appears to be running ahead.

A confusing element is the candidacy of retired Lt. Gen. Duong Van Minh, now in Thailand. "Big Minh" was exiled as ambassador-at-large several months after he was overthrown as premier in 1964.

Exile Running

His ticket was registered by his vice-presidential running mate, Tran Ngoc Lieng, a lawyer. But South Vietnam's ruling generals say Big Minh would not be allowed to return.

Thieu Tri Quang, leader of a militant Buddhist faction, has begun to exploit the generals' refusal to allow Minh back. Although Tri Quang's faction was able to call tens of thousands of demonstrators into the streets as recently as a year ago, it now is divided.

Tri Quang, however, could get a few thousand into the streets, and if other groups apply enough pressure, the generals could be forced to change their minds.

Minh could be expected to draw off some of the military votes from Thieu and Ky and would have some Buddhist support. He is also Southern born and because of this would take southern votes from Thieu, born in central Vietnam, and Ky, a native of Hanoi.

Prominent Civilian

The most prominent civilian candidate, Tran Van Huong, 63, is also a Southerner and has a large Southern following, especially among intellectuals. Huong has chosen a lay Buddhist leader, Mai Tho Truyen, 61, as his running mate.

A popular theory among Vietnamese politicians is that if Thieu wins, Huong would be asked to serve as premier.

Another prominent civilian ticket unites Phan Khac Suu, 61, a former chief of state and now speaker of the Provisional Assembly, with Dr. Phan Quang Dan, 49, a member of the assembly. Suu was jailed briefly by President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The candidates include 15 Southerners, 11 Northerners, and 8 born in central Vietnam. Twenty-two of them live in Saigon, 22 in the surrounding province of Gia Dinh, 1 in Cholon, Saigon's Chinese suburb, 1 in Vung Tau, south of Saigon, and 1 in Thailand.

The candidates include five lawyers and judges, five businessmen and firm owners, three teachers, four doctors, four former civil servants, three mil-

A TRADITION of friendship between the United States and Finland is observed in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of Finnish independence in a 5-cent postage stamp to be issued Oct. 6 at Finland, Minn. The stamp reproduces the Finnish coat of arms which dates back to 1581 when the country became a grand duchy under Sweden. It is a crowned lion, rampant, holding a sword and standing on another sword. Nine roses on the shield are believed to represent the nine original provinces.

City Tax Boosted 14% As Escanaba Raises Valuation

Escanaba city taxpayers will soon receive their 1967 city tax bills—and they will find their taxes have gone up 14% since last year.

Behind the increase is an action of the Michigan legislature requiring Escanaba and other cities to levy taxes on the state equalized figure, which is higher than the valuation figure set by the city.

Act 409 was adopted by the legislature in November, 1965, and became effective on Dec. 31, 1966.

The act places assessed valuation at 50 per cent of market value uniformly throughout the state. The purpose is to establish equitable and fair valuations in Michigan as between units of government—townships, cities, schools, county.

In application the use of the higher state equalized figure as the base for the city tax levy works like this:

- Escanaba established its assessed valuation at $30,082,005 for 1967.
- The state equalized figure which must now be used as the base for the tax levy is $34,416,191—or about $400,000 higher.
- The city tax rate remains unchanged at $14.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation.
- On the higher state equalized valuation, however, the 1967 tax levy for the city of Escanaba is $496,950 as compared to $416,191 last year. This is an increase of 14%, and will bring the city additional revenue in the amount of $80,759.

The higher tax take to help meet the record city budget will be brought to the attention of the taxpayers when they receive their bills about the first of next week.

The mailing of the approximately 5,200 city tax statements is scheduled for tomorrow from the City Hall.

Whooping Cranes In San Antonio Zoo Expecting

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Now both Rosie the whooping crane and her mate Crip, are model expectant parents and zoo officials hope the marriage will yield two infant birds of a rare species.

Fred Stark, director of the San Antonio zoo, said Wednesday Rosie's two eggs may hatch this weekend.

Crip and Rosie were mated last year. Rosie laid eggs on June 7 and 9.

There were 45 cranes left in the wild, Stark said, when officials counted them last spring. He said there are 12 more in captivity.

Pope May Take Mid-East Role

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI conferred with King Hussein of Jordan today amid reports that the pontiff was planning a personal diplomatic campaign to mediate between Arab nations and Israel on the status of Jerusalem.

A Vatican communique issued after the meeting said the Pope and the king discussed "current problems" and especially the plight of Palestine refugees.

But Vatican sources said most of the talk was devoted to Jerusalem and the holy places in the Old City taken from Jordan by Israel in last month's war.

The sources said the Pope appeared convinced that the United Nations was unable to deal effectively with the city and that he was determined to play a mediating role aimed at some kind of international status for Jerusalem.

Israel has declared it is willing to accept some form of international control of the holy places but not of the city itself.

State Population Growth Won't Match Leaders

Michigan's population is expected to increase to 9,928,000 by 1980 for a 27 per cent gain since 1960, says a financing firm.

A Meinhard - Commercial Corp. analysis of recent population projections by the U. S. Department of Commerce shows that this will give Michigan 4.1 per cent of the U. S. population. Because of the more rapid growth of a few states, however, this would represent a decline from the state's 4.4 per cent share of the 1960 population, making it one of 26 states expected to have a smaller share of the nation's population in 1980.

Although every state except West Virginia is expected to increase in population in the 20 years from 1960 to 1980, great variations are expected among the growth rates of the various states. The overall trend seems to indicate a pronounced westward and southward shift.

The firm, a subsidiary of C. I. H. Financial Corp. conducted the analysis because it provides financial support to manufacturers and distributors of many consumer products.

California, which passed New York as the nation's most populous state during the '60's, is expected by government experts to have 27,742,000 residents by 1980. This is a larger population than the 21 smallest states combined—nearly half of the rest of the states. California's share of the population is expected to rise from 8.8 per cent in 1960 to 11.4 per cent, or better than one-ninth of all the people in the country.

Police believe the woman had been dead since Tuesday night.

Mississippi Walk Not A Victory: Meredith

CANTON, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith characterizes his march through Mississippi as, "at best, the beginning of the end for fear and injustice."

The last steps of the 165-mile walk brought the 34-year-old civil rights figure to the courthouse square here on Independence Day.

Meredith said the completion of his 11-day march "does not signal a victory. It is a greater manifestation of the black world's historical, traditional and more fundamental defeat."

He said he had failed in one of his primary purposes because "the fear that permeates the life of the Negro in the United States has not been eliminated."

But he said he exposed that fear.

"If Negroes no longer fear,"

Women Sentenced By Judge Kent

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Two women were sentenced to two years probation by U.S. District Judge Noel P. Fox Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary M. Geistert, 20, pleaded guilty earlier to the theft of a letter from the mail with intent to obstruct correspondence and Mrs. Belle Davis, 24, of Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to forging a government check May 24, 1966 in Benton Harbor.

Judge W. Wallace Kent in Kalamazoo sentenced Joseph D. Williams, 19, of Cincinnati, Ohio, to not more than five years on his conviction of gross indecency while a job corpsman at Fort Custer, and Dan Reed, 35, of Battle Creek, to two years probation on his guilty plea of forging a government check Aug. 7, 1965, in Battle Creek.

Holmes Chides Draft Critics

DETROIT (AP) — "The draft should be done away with tomorrow, if you can find another method to ensure the survival of this country," says Michigan's selective service director.

But Col. Arthur A. Holmes isn't wishing himself out of a job.

He won't go so far as to say the present draft system is the best possible. But he insists that draft critics, growing increasingly vocal as the Viet Nam war grows increasingly frustrating, should come up with a workable alternative.

So far, none of the alternatives advanced, even those by a presidential commission for an overhaul of the present draft system, have aroused his interest, Holmes said in an interview.

But changes are being called for. One of the most persistent charges is that undergraduate college deferments are unfair to the poor, especially Negroes, who can't afford college.

"It bothers me very much when I see bright kids who can't afford to go to school winding up getting drafted while we have professional students, whose parents are well-heeled, who avoid service," says C. Michael Kimber, a Detroit draft board chairman.

Kimber prefers universal military training.

GLADSTONE Soo Line Asks ICC Protection

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Soo Line railroad says it should be permitted to expand its operations in Wisconsin if a proposed merger between the Chicago & North Western Railway and the Milwaukee Road is approved.

Soo Line President Leonard H. Murray outlined his railroad's case Wednesday before Interstate Commerce Commission examiner Henry Darmstadter Jr.

He predicted major areas of Wisconsin either would lose or suffer a serious reduction of present rail competition without ICC safeguards.

Murray argued against the proposal and said that if the ICC okays it, Soo Line should at least be granted certain improvements in its competitive position.

Briefly Told

Gladstone City Police issued a traffic summons to Lawrence D. McPhee of Garden for speeding and no proof of insurance.

Traffic summonses were issued by State Police Wednesday to Ernest Tyra, Wilson, and Paul Ray, Bark River, both for no proof of insurance, and to Stella Clements, Harris, no operator's license or proof of insurance.

Gordon Peterson, Rapid River, paid a fine of $25 and $7.30 court costs before Justice Edward Goldsworthy of Gladstone Wednesday after pleading guilty to an assault and battery charge brought by his wife. He was arrested by State Police Tuesday.

Gasper Rivest, 46, of Rte. 1, Powers, was ticketed by State Police Wednesday for driving left of center and no proof of insurance after his car left County Rd. 569 between La Branch and Powers and struck a utility pole. The accident happened at 11:30 a.m. Rivest suffered minor injuries, officers said.

Fires?

City residents may have wondered where all the fires were Wednesday morning when the fire alarm sounded several times, but a check with firemen revealed a short in the alarm system which was traced and repaired by William LaFond, city electrician.

Negro Teacher's Aide Finds Tots Honestly Curious

EDITOR'S NOTE—Eleanor Curry, a Negro, spent the 1966-67 school year as a teacher's aide in an all-white San Mateo elementary school on the San Francisco Peninsula. Here is her story as told in the district publication, Intercom.

By ELEANOR CURRY
SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Only a few days after I reported for duty last October, a 5-year-old described me to her mother. "There's somebody at school who dresses like our teacher and talks like her, but she's very, very dark. What is she?" I don't know how her mother responded, but the next day the youngster ran up to me smiling and said, "Come stand by me. I'll help you say the Pledge of Allegiance so you can learn about our country."

It was a somewhat shattering introduction to an experience that has turned out to be rewarding and revealing to me, and I hope meaningful and constructive to the children who at first regarded me as something from a museum.

Mother Of Eight
As a Negro, as the mother of eight children, and as a citizen deeply concerned about education in our community, I had hoped that I could make a contribution to the school district as a teacher's aide.

Some days I mixed paints, read a story or helped with a puppet show, depending upon the needs of the teachers and children in two kindergarten classes to which I was assigned. During the lunch hour I organized games and supervised the play of older children.

At first the children were polite and curious about me—too polite, I thought later, when they looked away if I happened to catch their eye.

Questions Start
Then the questions started coming. Rarely were they insulting or malicious; more often they were hesitant, tentative and honestly curious.

Since I was learning, too, how best to adapt my skills to the needs of each teacher and individual child, I could appreciate the children's needs to learn more about me.

There were those who found it hard to believe that my hands were not always dirty, and I really was brown all over. Some decided that I had to be from Africa.

Soon I stopped wondering whether the children would accept me as they would any of the other 80 teacher aides in the district. I tried to act as natural as possible.

"You're Nice"
Whenever a question arose about my origin or background, I tried to talk privately with the child, helping him to grow out of attitudes about which he seemed uncertain and sometimes fearful.

But I did keep wondering whether there were real, basic differences between these children and my own. Even after eight months, when the children and I felt quite relaxed and confident with each other, a 5-year-old said to me, "I still haven't figured out what you are, but you're nice."

Crazy Legs Are Hues Of Fire; Swirls Of Pink

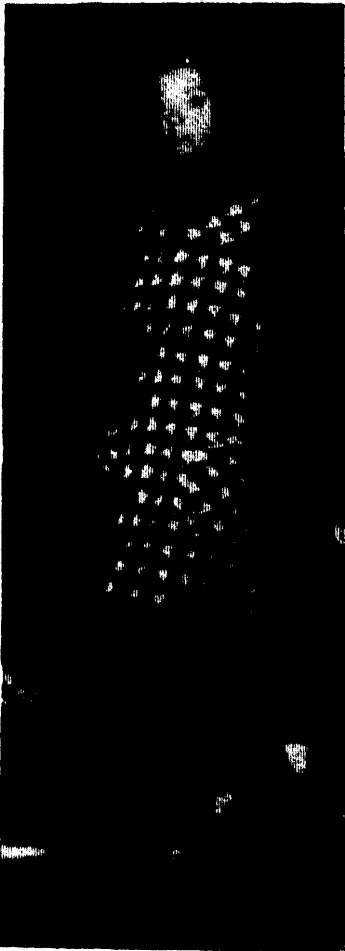

NEW YORK (AP) — Current supershort styles stem from gaudy stockings, a fashion that baseball players thought of years ago. Once stockings were accessories. Now they are the costumes themselves.

At the fall collection previews Wednesday, the first of a four-day schedule arranged by the New York Couture Group, designers who seldom agree on anything were in unison in hailing the crazy leg as the root of all fashion.

As if to prove that diverse backgrounds means nothing, makers of banion fabrics brought Ken Scott from Milan, Iran-born Ferro Eitehadieh from his posh mansion in Palm Beach, and Gayle Kirkpatrick from the garment district to show off their wares. Most of their offerings had to do with stockings.

Discotheque-loving Ferro believed that the curvy gams of girls should be covered with swirls of purple, pink, and green. Ken Scott sent his stocking stuffers out in hues like a fire in the night, while Kirkpatrick had painted conch shells and butterflies bigger than life on browns and blacks for his ladies' tights.

All three designers topped these tights, but very sparingly sometimes, with tunics or shifts. Anything longer was slit to the arm on the sides to preserve the all-important long view of loud legs.

SHOWN IS AN imported wool jumper designed by Chuck Howard. Fashion designers seem to think the new crazy leg look is the root of all fashion. (AP Wirephoto)

Womens Activities

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

For ladies who cannot remove lint from dark corduroy: Wash and allow to dry slowly and while the article is still slightly damp, just brush it with a clothes brush. All of the lint will come off.

This works like magic every time.

It is very important that the clothing be damp when trying to remove the lint because lint really sticks after corduroy is dry.

Helen Ciaera

Believe me, gals, it works. But better yet—is nylon net. There's that word again!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

My children don't like their summer shorts and shirts starched. So when I'm ironing, I spray-starch just the front of the shirts and the seat of the pants (where the dirt usually gets ground in).

Dirt floats right out at next laundry time and they don't have the scratchy seams they would have if the garments were starched all over.

Sexy Look Is Out

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Women employees of the Mecklenburg County Welfare Department have been told to take the sexy look out of social work.

Department Director Wallace Kuralt said Wednesday short skirts, long hair and tight clothes are "out" — at least during working hours.

"We didn't have any staff members wearing skirts up to the thighs," Kuralt said. "But I feel that we have to warn them ... there is a professional appearance."

The Felch Rangers kept their unbeaten record intact in the Wisconsin baseball league by nipping Peshtigo, 2-1, behind a one-hit mound effort by Tony Merhalski who fanned nine and granted only one base on balls. The lone Peshtigo hit was a single by John LaCourt in the first inning. Stephenson scored its sixth victory in seven starts by bombing Portfield, 14-4.

Channing, scheduled to face the Esby Cubs in an exhibition game at the Al Ness Field this evening, ran its Iron-Dickinson Legion league victory string to six games over the weekend by tripping Kingford, 5-3, and downing Crystal Falls, 10-2. Norm Lindeman fired a two-hitter against Crystal Falls while Craig Lindeman contributed a homer, double and single in the game. In another Iron-Dickinson game Iron Mountain edged Crystal Falls, 3-2, with Rudy Steiner pitching a three-hitter and fanning nine for the mound decision.

The eighth annual Rhinelander Invitational Softball tournament will open July 21 and run on two consecutive weekends. A field of up to 40 teams is expected from Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Canada. Entry deadline is July 14. James Gaber is tournament manager.

Ging's Bar captured the Marquette City softball tournament championship by whipping Andy's Bar, 10-0 and 14-1, in the double elimination finals. Andy's had scored a surprising 3-2 victory over Ging's in earlier tournament action. Bill Bertucci tossed both ends of the double wind-up, scattering 11 hits in the 14 innings. Pudge L'Hullier belted three homers in the two games.

Gil Heard, athletic publicity director at Northern Michigan University, has learned that Roger Staubach will not be passing against the Wildcats when Coach Rolfe Dotsch's gridders host the Quantico Marines this fall. The former Navy All-American quarterback is slated for stateside duty at Pensacola, Fla., instead of at Quantico as previously announced. Northern will take on the tough Marine eleven at Marquette October 21.

Superstar, Supersub Win For Atlanta, Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

Hank Aaron is a superstar. He can afford to endure three walks before getting his swing.

Chico Ruiz is a supersub. He can't waste any time.

Aaron bided his time Wednesday night as Chicago's Rick Nye pitched around him in his first three trips to the plate. The fourth time, Aaron unloaded a three-run homer that helped Atlanta drop the Cubs 4-2.

Ruiz, Cincinnati's expert on National League benches, pinch hit for Jim Maloney in the 10th inning and made the most of his one trip to the plate. He doubled, stole third and then raced home with the winning run on Nelson Briles' wild pitch as the Reds shaded St. Louis 2-1.

Chicago's third straight loss to Atlanta kept the Cubs one-half game back of St. Louis in the battle for the National League lead. In other games, Los Angeles topped Pittsburgh 5-3. San Francisco nipped New York 2-1 and Philadelphia edged Houston 3-2.

Don Sutton scattered seven hits and struck out seven as the Dodgers defeated the Pirates. The victory ended a four-game Los Angeles slide.

Jim Lefebvre homered for the Dodgers, and Donn Clemons connected for Pittsburgh.

Gaylord Perry saved Mike McCormick's 10th victory with 2-3 innings of airtight relief as the Giants shaded the Mets.

Hal Lanier drove in San Francisco's winning run with a two-out single in the seventh and then Perry bailed McCormick out of a jam by getting Tommy Davis to rap into an inning ending double play in the bottom of the seventh.

Shoddy Houston fielding led to two of Philadelphia's three runs against the Astros as Rick Wise, with ninth inning help from Dick Hall, won his third game.

Wise drove in a run with a fourth inning single and successive errors on the hit by losing pitcher Mike Cuellar and Ed Mathews allowed another Philadelphia run to score.

Rusty Staub misplayed Bobby Wine's fifth inning fly ball into a triple, leading to the Phillies' final run.

July Fourth, Homecoming Is A Big Success

The annual July Fourth celebration coupled with a homecoming turned out large crowds, over the weekend and continued through a gala program of parades, street games, concert and fireworks display Tuesday.

A float of First National Bank won first place as the most beautiful in the parade. Inland Local 4302 won first with a patriotic float; and exhibit of guitars by Richard Marshes won first as most unusual; the Newberry 40 et 8 won first in comic; Ben Franklin-Peoples Store-Gift House Stamps won first in the historical group; Lions of Manistique won first in club displays; Jaycees in organizations and Leonard's Barbershop, antique display.

Planned Early Crowds for the observance were estimated equal to that of the success of the Manistique Centennial several years ago. About 15,000 watched the parade Tuesday, it was reported.

Reigning over the events was Queen Dianne Beaudre. She received her crown during the Shrine Band concert Saturday evening, opening event of the celebration. She was present with her court for the Field Mass in Hall stadium, offered Sunday by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. F. N. Scheringer; for the parades, and the Night of Music Tuesday evening in which the Menominee Northernaires, Appleton Americans, L'Anse Drum and Bugle Corps, Soo Kilties and other visiting musicians and marching units participated.

Serving as escorts for the queen were Bob Carlson, Tom Smith and John Williams. Mrs. Fred Lesica and Mrs. Jack Phillips were co-chairmen for the queen program. An executive committee consisting of Emery Barnes, chairman, Eugene Carlson, William Hough, and Fred H. Hanne had been working since last September to arrange the celebration. Various community organizations were asked to take charge of various parts. The All-Vets committee of veterans organizations was in charge of fund raising with Archie Carpenter as chairman.

Parade "Beautiful" A teen dance held at the school Saturday night and a street dance at the Post Office corner Monday night had music by Paul Babaladis and his band and drew large crowds. At least 1,000 watched the street dancers Monday night, officials estimated. William Hough was in charge of the Keystone Cops merrymakers who paraded through the streets with a paddy wagon, now and then finding someone without a homecoming tag. Don McLean was in charge for the American Legion of street games Tuesday.

Floats and other entries in the "beautiful parade" were in charge of the Lions Club with Don Martin and William Cowman assisting. Louis Rogers was in charge of arranging visiting band performances. The Rotary Club was in charge of the stadium program Tuesday. Jaycees handled the bumper sticker sales, and Elks were in charge of registrations. The Hiawatha Shrine Club arranged the parade of the Shrine Band and concert Saturday and Third and Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus arranged the Field Mass. The Women's Club was in charge of the Kiddies Parade, with Mrs. J. P. Quick and Mrs. E. J. Doyle as co-chairmen.

Boating Death Season On; Veterans Tell Of Safety

By LEE SMITS

There are Michigan counties in which drowning exceeds traffic accidents as a fatal statistic.

With that in mind it pays to consider the firm belief of marine veterans that there is just one cause of boating fatalities—lack of experience.

In addition to regulations relating to life-preservers, fire extinguishers and a knowledge of weather signals, there are a few basic rules that, if generally observed, would prevent most drownings.

A common cause of disaster is the overloading of small boats. The margin of safety can't be rigidly defined. It might help to mark every boat with its allowable weight of cargo, human or otherwise, although it is doubtful that any increase in laws and regulations is of much avail. Obviously non-swimmers of any age, on any kind of small craft, should have life preservers at hand or, preferably, attached to their persons.

Overloaded boats, leaky boats, changing seats, sudden squalls and wrong methods of dealing with choppy water are common ways for getting into serious trouble.

Since outboard motors are standard equipment, some knowledge of dealing with these machines is important. Most boaters know by this time that motor should be joined to boat by a stout line or chain to keep motor from going to the bottom in an unguarded moment.

Naturally, seas of any size—also the wake of passing vessels—should be met bow on. If a small boat is caught out in a summer blow, it is folly to head full speed for shelter. Throttle down, take it easy, dealing with each wave as a separate problem.

Excellent insurance is provided by stowing in your boat an anchor—with sufficient line, at least three times of the maximum depth in which you are likely to anchor. With a balky motor, a choppy sea, maybe night coming on, it is much better to anchor and ride it out than to fight wind and wave. Which brings up the subject of signal flares and flashlight, both of which can come in very handy on occasion. In fact a water-tight container with essential gear, including such items together with chart and compass, is comforting to have on board even the smallest craft.

Caught offshore by a squall, the boater is exposed to the same fire peril that besets a person lost in the woods—panic. The smallest open boat has

GM Rebuffed In Claims Against Car Critic Nader

NEW YORK (AP)—A State Supreme Court referee ruled Wednesday that General Motors Corp. had "failed to establish any collusion or any other improper arrangement" between automobile safety critic Ralph Nader and Vincent Gillen, formerly an investigator for the company.

Last March Justice Saul S. Streit named Seymour Bieber as referee to take testimony on GM's claim that Nader's $100,000 defamation suit against Gillen was designed by the auto critic to obtain information which he could not otherwise get legally.

Nader has pending a $26 million action for invasion of privacy against GM, Gillen and others.

Simon H. Rifkind, counsel for the motor firm, had charged that Nader and Gillen were "allies in an attempt to mulch General Motors." He also charged last March that the Gillen suit was a "sweetheart lawsuit" and a very convenient arrangement for discovery of information.

The record is barren of any meaningful proof of contact between Nader, Gillen or their attorneys before the suit was started last Dec. 9, the referee said.

Bieber said he would not recommend consolidation of the two suits.

Studebaker Builds Minneapolis Plant

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—The Onan Electric Generator Division of Studebaker Corp. Wednesday announced plans for construction of a $13 million manufacturing plant here.

Byers A. Burlingame, Studebaker president, said the plant will be the largest in a series of plant expansions by Studebaker divisions.

Studebaker recently acquired Wegner Electric Co. and has announced plans to combine with Worthington Corp., a producer of pumps, air conditioners, heavy machinery, electrical equipment and controls.

great ability to survive in bad weather, if given a chance. Get as much weight as possible below the waterline, and sit tight.

But, suppose the worst happens. Boat capsizes or swamps. If it sinks, there is something wrong with the boat. A metal boat should have air-tight compartments. A wooden boat will stay afloat and support its passengers—if they stay in the water alongside.

In any contingency there is one move that is totally taboo—leaving the boat to swim ashore. A high percentage of those who try it never get there. It is sound practice to make sure that everyone is hitched to a capsized boat, by one means or another, especially if the water is chilly, as a lot of Michigan water is.

Too many drownings occur from docks, beaches, bathing rafts. As for the pitiful fate of unwary waders, inept swimmers and small children who elude adult vigilance, there would seem to be no rules, admonition or advice that would be of avail.

Ypsilanti Jails 14 Motorcyclists; Carried Weapons

YPSILANTI (AP)—Fourteen motorcyclists were arrested Wednesday night on charges of conspiracy to create a disturbance or carrying concealed weapons or both.

They all were members of a cycling group known as "God's Children." First arrests occurred at an American Legion carnival in Ypsilanti's Waterworks Park.

In what Police Chief Ray Walton described as unrelated incidents of rock-throwing, six Negro youths were arrested later.

Eight persons were injured outside the park Sunday night when, police said, 100 to 200 Negro youths stoned cars of persons leaving a parking lot across the street. Three were taken into custody Sunday.

Chief Walton said the cyclists, from the Ypsilanti and Wayne areas, came looking for revenge for a slight injury to one of their members at the carnival in a weekend fracas.

Of the 14 cyclists taken into custody, 13 were held under $1,000 to $2,500 bonds for Municipal Court appearance a week hence. The 14th, a juvenile, was released to his parents.

The United States silver depository is located at West Point, N.Y.

Gaylord Festival 'Burning Of Boog' Routs Problems

GAYLORD (AP)—No one in Gaylord has any problems today, if the legend of Boog holds true to its promise.

At the opening of the third annual Alpine Festival Wednesday, Gaylord residents and an estimated 1,000 visitors scribbled their problems on slips of paper, cast them onto a fire, and their problems disappeared in a puff of smoke.

Known as the "Burning of Boog," the custom has been kept every year at the festival in this city, which dubs itself "The Ski Capital of the Midwest."

Estimated as the largest crowd in the history of the festival, some 1,000 people attended the opening under cloudy skies and near-Alpine temperatures—55 degrees.

Three hundred, attired in Alpine costumes, paraded through the downtown section.

Then, the festival committee supplied what it billed as the "world's largest coffee break" to the visitors.

Today, 19-year-old Sally Drinker advocates as festival queen. One of the 10 current contestants for the title will be crowned in her stead.
